Softer, the site uses Google Analytics, the specification of which is as follows: This tracking information includes information about the visitor's domain name, the referring website, the type of browser being used, the type of device and operating system, and the time and date of the visit. Google also collects information about the navigation pattern within each session. All of this data is sent to Google in real time, and then processed anonymously. In particular, data about the type of computer and its various settings are stored in the so-called user profile. According to Google, the information collected is not shared outside the company, and is held for a short time. Under this circumstance, the owner of the data can be reached if required. Google Analytics uses Javascript and HTML 5. As a result, the fact that it is impossible to block cookies in Firefox makes it impossible to control tracking. It is therefore not possible to completely eliminate the tracking of users. Отзывы But on the other hand this is a very useful and innovative program that can be very helpful for most of us. Because, if we are not by nature a good manager of our files and files, it will be very difficult to keep them safe and achieve great results in this area. As for us, we've been using this service for some time now, and we're happy to recommend it. In our opinion, this is the best tool for file management, which is used by many people, and that is constantly improving its service. You can download files via any web browser, and the support of modern versions of Windows ensures the safe transfer of files. All of this is done without much fuss. What's more, after downloading the file, you need to transfer it to a connected storage device and plug it in, which is, of course, impossible with larger files. In short, this program is easy to use and performs great job when dealing with files.

Furthermore, if you're one of the few who uses various devices for file management, this program could be very helpful for you. It allows you to work with the files on all of them, and not only in your favorite desktop. On the whole, we're positive that this is a useful program that is worth trying out. If you are using, then you should definitely check out this program. The price is a bit
