your accounts, the server could send another one to another person Other popular software* Out of the Box: Only Support the Registration Domain Vixy: Support One or Many Registration Domains Reg2MS: Support One or Many Registration Domains MSNVersionProxy is not a replacement for other MSN messenger clients, and is NOT legal to pretend to have multiple identities. MSNVersionProxy is NOT an application that has acquired your data. Your data will remain in sync with the email account you use.Warning message By clicking Proceed you will be redirected to the new web address or to a page that does not exist. This action will not change your personal information nor your password. In a large number of cases, forms reject users that use incorrect ID and use a different user on the same computer, or more than one user at a time. For these reasons, you can not use a local ID you have created on a different computer or with a different user account. Also if you have used a previous version of the software it is best to use the same installation that you were using before, or a new installation.

MSNVersionProxy is a proxy program that acts as a proxy server to connect to Hotmail and MSN Accounts with older MSN Messenger 2009 clients (v1.1.8 and lower). MSNVersionProxy is easy to use and setup. All the MSN version parameters (except the Microsoft Messenger account) will be transferred through the proxy program to Hotmail or MSN and then transferred to the MSN and/or Hotmail client.
