One innovation of the FIFA video game series is the replays, which offer a realistic view of goals from previous seasons. The technology used is highly advanced and the graphics for the replays of games from the 1998 World Cup and the 2006 World Cup are very beautiful. FIFA 18, even though it's FIFA 18, and FIFA 19, which is FIFA 19, are all going to use this technology to bring the players to life. This year, two new matches will use the FIFA 17 engine. You can enjoy the replays of those matches, but you'll also be able to see some of the new changes that they made to the engine. This year, the developers have also added several new camera angles including a "Hawkeye" View, allowing you to get a bird's eye view of the stadium, and a "Devil's Eye" View. The first new camera angle, the Hawkeye View, is available on the Main Menu and allows you to watch matches from all four corners of the stadium. You can also use this camera angle to watch a match as a coach or manager. There are two different camera angles available for the Devil's Eye View. One is the classic Devil's Eye View where you can watch a match as if you were at the stadium. The other is called the Devil's Perspective, where you can watch a match as if you were a player or coach in the stadium. Below, the feature list for the 2017 FIFA 18 release in Europe. 2017 FIFA 18 MEDIA APP QBD (Localised Live Feed): The new App features an exclusive live English commentary of the matches of the FIFA World Cup, as well as an integrated Live Goal Feed. It also includes a streaming of the matches of the FIFA Confederations Cup in Russia, three exclusive live matches in the League and several other features. QBD (Localised Live Feed) is downloadable from Google Play Store and Apple's App Store. Live Commentary: For 2017 FIFA 18, FIFA would bring you a whole new commentary experience, this year: the first-ever live-recorded online commentary from FIFA World Cup Qualifiers. The Commentator Panel, featuring renowned footballers including the likes of David James, Louis Saha, Simeon Jackson, Kyle Walker and many more, will provide a unique insight into the matches. The commentary will be available from June 30 (2017
