Features: Unprecedented in-game interaction! Adjusting your tactics and positioning is made easier with instant sight over any player on the pitch. Use the player detection, proximity and context clues to influence your next move and create the perfect position for every situation. New Attacking Intelligence system From the first whistle to the last, take on the role of an attacking midfielder and choose your route to goal from the most advanced attacking position on the field. Your touchline to goal position is informed by contextual game play information, such as the defensive pressure, team shape, defensive positioning and so on. The FUT Ultimate Team gains a unique feature: You can follow the path your players take through each game and continually evaluate and adjust your strategy according to the tactical situation. Can you create a fluid attacking unit from your players? Deeper, more tactical play You can now freely manoeuvre your players at any point on the field with refined dribbling, pinpoint passing, ball control and tackling. More depth in player interactions FIFA 22 has nine different animation models for mimicking player actions. This allows for more depth in all interactions than ever before: Whether it's defending against a long-range shot, controlling the ball with your foot or managing the pressure on-ball, FIFA 22 will accurately reflect the visuals of each player. Experience more dynamic ball control The ball is now smarter! Player control and dribbling have both received a complete overhaul. Players now possess more control of the ball and there are more decisions to make in tight situations. Developing all-round dribbling skill now opens up more options. Additional control improvements Making forward passes more reactive and dynamic You can now create more momentum by performing a "power slide" to gain a couple of metres advantage. This makes it easier to pass through tight spaces, especially with more players coming in from your opponent's flank. Added accuracy in heading the ball Heading the ball is now more consistent. A new heading reference system allows for more accuracy when controlling the flight path of the ball and also makes the ball change direction more naturally. Increased ball pressure The ball no longer runs into the player's knee area and pressure now feels more real. Improvements to the Frostbite engine A revamped Frostbite 2.0 engine uses a new method for detecting and processing
