There are 3 different levels in the game, each with its own theme. The map design is pretty realistic, giving the impression of a real place. In each level you will face hordes of zombies. The thing is that the zombies always come directly towards you. If they come close to you, they stop. If they are further away, they walk towards you. To successfully headshot your target, you should aim accurately. If you are aiming is good, you should shoot the zombie behind. Targeting single zombies does not always lead to a successful headshot. You must to use the whole screen. The target on one side is important for your score, too. You will be rewarded not only for the number of zombies you have downed but also for the number of headshots you have made. It is not really difficult to perform the headshot, but you should still pay attention to precise aiming. The zombies can also jump over ground and airstream zombies if they are on the same level. You can destroy them with your weapon, or you can stun them and kill them with a shot to the head.
