An example of a mystery file is found in the original Mega Man X series. Development Usually a mystery file is created by an individual. Under the impression that something has been lost, a person develops a concern for the missing file(s) and begins to search for a lost file. More often than not the original creator will think of the file in question and make a note of it in an effort to share with others. If the person is looking for a file that is with in computer memory, they might make a note and save it in their hard drive, a simple text editor, or use a word processor like Microsoft Word. It is very important to distinguish mystery files from compressed, archived, or video game ROM files.
