Hydroxylation of benzaldehyde-type arylacetonitriles was investigated with respect to the role of cytochrome P450 and the cytochrome b5 component of rat liver microsomes. The products of benzaldehyde-type arylacetonitriles, benzoxazolinone and benzothiazole, were generated from benzaldehyde-type arylacetonitriles using rat hepatic microsomes, but not NADPH-dependent oxidases. Cytochrome P450-dependent hydroxylation of arylacetonitriles proceeded very slowly using nitratoplatinum complexes, which are known to specifically catalyze the formation of the cytochrome P450-dependent hydroxylation of both benzaldehyde and acetone derivatives. These results show that cytochrome P450 isoenzymes catalyze the hydroxylation of arylacetonitriles. Pretreatment of rats with phenobarbital or beta-naphthoflavone caused a marked increase in the activities of drug-metabolizing enzymes in the liver. Antibodies against rat microsomes treated with phenobarbital or beta-naphthoflavone were prepared and the antibodies inactivated the cytochrome P450-dependent hydroxylation of benzaldehyde-type arylacetonitriles. These results show that the microsomal protein component plays a role in the hydroxylation of arylacetonitriles catalyzed by cytochrome P450-dependent monooxygenase.Q: How to split XML text into array in javascript or jquery I have a text called as "Sample text" and I want to parse the text and split the text into array like this ['
