"Der Krieg (War) ist beendet, aus dem Krieg (War) kommt die Ruhe" - A edict by Herr Hitler" "The war is over, from the war comes peace" - words uttered by Herr Hitler during the last moments of the war in Greece. Decabristov Street is a game where such words may soon come true. The game is played out over 12 days. You play against the clock of history. Each day brings new events. Your role is to help a group of refugees that are trying to get on their feet, by purchasing goods and resources. The game is divided into 10 days, each with its own specific challenges. You will be able to purchase resources for the refugees, or offer them food for your adventure. The game has a unique economic system, where resources can be combined in certain ways to create new resources. If you win one day you will be able to completely fulfill the needs of a single family. If you lose one day, you will be lost. Sixty-six days and hundreds of different events lay ahead for you and your team. A dark fate awaits you, but it does not have to be. By means of a new and unique concept of cooperative gameplay we offer you an alternative to the normal progression of the story, where you wait for the ending. You have the possibility to direct the destiny of the family and yourself. The game is divided into 10 Days. Depending on whether you use your resources wisely or leave them at home, you will reach any of the following points: -Day 1 - 4 million -Day 5 - 8 million -Day 6 - 11 million -Day 7 - 15 million -Day 8 - 20 million -Day 9 - 25 million -Day 10 - 30 million Achievements are given for the following points: -Day 1 - 10 million -Day 5 - 20 million -Day 6 - 25 million -Day 7 - 30 million -Day 8 - 40 million -Day 9 - 50 million -Day 10 - 55 million Each day is followed by a new challenge. This challenges will allow you to earn further achievements. The more achievements you have earned, the more options you have when you reach the final days. During the game, you

PLC is a Machine Language which is very similar to C++. PLC can be ran on a PLC Machine which is a microcontroller like Arduino. With this game, we created a small game engine that lets you interface with PLC via the serial port. We made some buttons and with a little bit of code you can hook it up to any PLC machine. In this version of the game, there is a set of beginner tutorial. There are 5 different tutorial levels that each teaches you the same things in a different order. Try and get as far as you can before you hit the "New Game" button to move on to the next tutorial. Each tutorial can be turned off and on using the toggle buttons at the top of the main screen. Features: - Movable control panel allows you to customize the controls for your game. - 5 different tutorial levels with different difficulty settings. - 5 different game modes to play. - Replay mode to give you an idea of the different things you need to do. Auditory stimuli {#S2-1-2} An excerpt of an ABBA song was played back at a constant volume level of -2 dB through a pair of headphones at 65 dB SPL. The pattern of units (chords) in the sonified patterns was identical to the symmetric figure in our visual stimuli. The stimuli consisted of two segments with a 4-note unitary pattern, each 30 s long, separated by a 10-s inter-stimulus interval (Figure 5{ref-type="fig"}). At 100% relative phase the units had an average pitch of 440 Hz in octaves (Figure 5{ref-type="fig"}, left panel). Flyover Zone, the official virtual tour of the Hadrian's Villa in Tivoli, Italy, is an adaptation of Professor Bernard Frischer's award winning digital model of the Hadrian's Villa. The advantage of the PC version of the program is that it provides a highly realistic, three-dimensional view of the entire reconstructed site, especially of underground structures. The program was developed to provide an immersive experience to both seasoned archaeologists and first-time visitors alike. With Flyover Zone, you can explore Hadrian's Villa and the fascinating surrounding areas, large and small, in three-dimensional space. Its most dynamic element is that it allows you to move around the many topographically and architecturally significant structures in the yard. You can examine the foundations of various structures and see the ground plan, which has been printed and overlaid on top of a custom-built 3D model of the ancient city of Tivoli. Instructions for Use: 1. It is available on: PC and Apple iOS and Android mobile devices. (Android users, please be sure to sign up for Google Play for Android; iOS users, check out iTunes if you haven't already.) 2. Follow the map to your destination. 3. On a PC/Mac, you can start the app and create an account on the site or you can skip the step. 4. On a mobile device, the tour starts automatically when you open the app. 5. On a PC/Mac, click the Start button at the bottom of the screen to start the tour. 6. On a mobile device, tap the Start button at the bottom of the screen to start the tour. 7. You can click anywhere in the place to view a 3D walkthrough of the area. The app will automatically switch you to the 3D display mode whenever you are in the place. 8. Tap the button in the upper right corner to navigate to the settings for Flyover Zone. There are two tabs: Tour and Settings. Tap the Tour tab to see where you can meet Hadrian, see the amphitheater, stroll the garden, and explore its monuments. To see more about the Villa, tap the Settings tab. *The default setting is to enable you to access the 3D walkthrough by clicking anywhere on the interface. You can alter this setting to also
