Ratz, the youngest and simplest of the Ratchet Universe universe's characters, is here! And he's armed with a gun, a trusty hat, and the ability to move his head through a dune with ease. Move through dunes without stopping and shoot whatever gets in your way with the built-in rail gun. All this in 60+ levels of fun. Did we mention that he has a gun? And that he can shoot things? And that he can move his head with ease? Well, I lied. No, he doesn't have a gun. No, he can't shoot things. And no, he can't move his head with ease. But he sure can do a whole lot of other stuff! Move along, nothing to see here. About Developer: Superbrothers, Inc. is an independent game development studio founded by brothers Dan and Mark Houser in 2004. It's now one of gaming's most exciting new voices with an innovative and hand-drawn approach to the art of game design. Their critically acclaimed games, including Kirby: Triple Deluxe, developed with The Adventure Company, and the award-winning Book of Unwritten Tales 2: The Fart Pack, are sure to delight and entertain players everywhere. The Adventure Company is an independent developer located in St. Augustine, FL. Their first title was the critically acclaimed Robot Unicorn Attack, and since then the company has been deeply involved in several other games, most of which were released between 2012 and 2014. About Superbrothers: Dan, and his brother Mark, are two brothers living in the same house. They're real-life super heroes, and really good at making games. Along with their fabulous games, the brothers have released their first feature film, the critically acclaimed Curse of the Brothers (sadly not a documentary), and some celebrity portraits. What's in the box? Ratchet and Clank - Ratchet is a cool, fun-loving robot, and Clank is his anthropomorphic sidekick. When they're separated, they need to work together to rescue Ratchet's girlfriend, Qwark. Ratchet and Clank tells a colorful and lively tale about the adventures of these lovable, over-protective characters, and finally brings them to the PlayStation 4 on PlayStation 3 and PS Vita! What's new:

I am Ruthie. I'm a fairy. Even before I was born, my mother was cast down by the fairies. For thair honor, my mother tried to kill my father. He happened not to be in the inner circle, not one of the four cast down finny feachs, because she didn't even know he was there. Who is? who are? her inner circle? There's the really difficult bits, there's your story. Um, okay, so far. My father pooped on a plate for her. Gold, that is, sux, or fairies don't have gold, they have fairy poop. They brought him back to our house, and we eat him, as he was meant to be, even before he pooped on the plate, cooked and then pooped into a hunk of bread. Blood went on the bottom of the plate, and I ate the top so my father could have some blood, as things went. My mother believed he would die because of what she had done, but my father, the good fairy, heard of this act of defiance, and promptly declared his daughter the last of the lines, thereby allowing all the other feachs to be done away with. This was his message to her, and so, she made sure to keep her mouth shut. For a while anyway. I don't know when she started talking again. Maybe she didn't. Anyway. I'm at your mercy, and I should know better than to come here looking for help. The part that started this up, the thing that gave me the idea to come here and tell you, was my brother walking in the back door this morning and looking for his shoes. He was wearing a pair of the golden ones that he finds super aisling. My brother walking in the door, stomping, and asking the maid who was waiting for him to tell him, where's my goddamn shoes? I thought that was pretty good, and I had the idea to be the maid, to tell him that he's sorry, but there's a poo plague in Fairyland and no one is allowed to enter this castle. I went out and got a scarf, and I filled the summer gas tank just in case and I came home to say that to my brother. He's not paying attention to what I'm
