By Joshua Slocum 2018-08-22 06:27:20 We have decided to scrap this method of voting and open up the discussion for all! The one thing we all know, are Human Beings! We wont lie about our hearts! We are able to identify with the tougher situations and they also are empathic and lead. Masks are something we use to mask our pain with common thoughts, but we would rather face the pain head on. Atleast that would mean something is being done because positive change is lacking. So, I was wondering if any of you wanted to vote? Also, will someone be tasked to collect all the votes and run some numbers? Will we take this offline and do a private viewing of the results? I guess those are questions for the next time we get together. Let me know what you would like to do!
