USB Guard is a portable software utility that works by connecting to USB devices such as flash drives, external hard drives or other USB drives. It monitors the activity of connected devices in order to scan them and detect viruses, malicious files or any type of malware that might have infected the media device. Once USB Guard is connected to the PC, it creates a separate process that is designed to scan connected drives. You can use it to reveal hidden files and folders and delete the contents of such media devices as well. Additionally, USB Guard allows you to

What's New in the USB Guard?

USB Guard is a

---

freeware application that scans USB devices, such as hard disks, external hard drives, memory sticks, MP3 players, camera memory sticks, network devices and printers, in order to make sure that they do not harm your system when they are connected to it. Even though the utility says that its main goal is to delete malicious autorun.inf files from flash drives in order to protect your PC, it is also capable of examining and fixing AutoPlay registry entries on the system itself, in order to fix problem areas. Furthermore, USB Guard helps you delete hidden folders, View Hidden Files and Folders, and create offline maps for search and navigation. Also, it allows you to add autorun.inf files on target portable drives in order to protect the files and the media itself when they are plugged in. The ADR (Anthem Dispute Resolution) procedure is set to become available to the public in January 2020. Following the announcement by the Department of Financial Services in 2018, High Court rules requiring ADR to be available to the general public became effective on 1 June 2019, though some of the conditions to access the ADR system were not in place until July. In order for an insurance policy to be covered under the ADR system, it must have a maturity of at least five years, be listed on the approved ledger of authorised insurers and provide for the automatic assessment of ADR claims.

---

---

---

---

Policyholders who want to submit an ADR claim can do so on the ADR page of the insurer's online platform or call the ADR service provided by the insurer. In certain cases, the ADR service provided by the insurer may be supplemented by an ADR provider who can act on the insurer's behalf. What are the options for a claim to be determined? Once a claim is registered, the dispute can be: assessed by a mediator, a decision maker or a panel of

---

arbitrators assessed by an ADR service
provider using a
common method of
decision making, with the exception of a
decision to pay by:
adopting the payor's
view using a decision
maker using an agreed
panel of arbitrators
using a common
method of decision making, with the exception of a decision to pay, where: The insurer and the payor agree to be bound by the decision of an ADR service provider or panel of arbitrators,
