• Communication features that establish a connection between you and your teammates. • An exciting storyline unfolds with the assistance of an AI that can even think and act on its own! • A wide range of intuitive weapons and attacks. • Roles, player levels, and guilds to organize the bonds that unite you and form your team. • Unique manners of battle to adapt to each player's preferences. • Various maps, monsters, equipment, and customizations for each part. AN ELDRON LORD WELCOMES YOU! Q: Retrofit to I'm writing an application in which the videos are fetched from some site. I'm using Retrofit to fetch that. My server is www.videoplaytech.com/api/video/topRated. Now I'm using that to fetch the data: When I'm doing something with https like writing it works fine. But when I'm doing something with www it gives an error like this: OpenConnection() failed, host is down or no route to host. Here is my retrofit config: public static Retrofit getAPI() { OkHttpClient client = new OkHttpClient(); Retrofit retrofit = new Retrofit.Builder().baseUrl(BASE_URL).addConverterFactory(GsonConverterFactory.create()).client(client).build(); return retrofit; } A: Try using HttpsURLConnection rather than HttpURLConnection URL url = new URL(""); //you can get the HttpsURLConnection object

Features Key:

Elden Lord: Your name will be displayed in the game's title screen. As an Elden Lord, you will receive an inheritance and be able to adopt a child. Your reward is strength, prestige, and magnificent battles!

The Collapsing Chronicle: In addition to the game's story, the Collapsing Chronicle will reveal the true history of the Lands Between and Elden Ring!

Multiplayer: There are many players who seek glory with you in a quest throughout different lands, and help to create the world you are experiencing now. In addition to online cooperative play, you can also be grouped up and play against each other in all sorts of multiplayer games!

Online Asynchronous play: Without worrying about how much time the game has been going, while you're playing, we continue on with character development and the construction of the world. If you'd like to take part, you can still do so even while playing on a different PC!

All: Great Battle

Elden Ring (April-2022)

1. Handling Item and Building, Using Online Multiplayer and Asynchronous Online 1.1. The Basic of Item and Building (Saved Data and Mapping) This is a comprehensive game. Your saved data includes items, monsters, places, the house you live in and so on. Your saved data is kept in the online world server on the internet. If you want to play for an extended period of time, you have to create a new saved data, which then becomes a new character. If you want to play a new character on a different saved data, you have to make a new saved data. Of the items you equip, your skills and attributes are determined. You can use these items to reach the goals set by the game. You can also use items to build a house and other items to decorate your house. 1.2. The Kind of Items You Can Equip The basic equipment is a sword. There are various swords, and you can use them in combat. You can also use various kinds of armor and weapons. There are armor parts that are attached to the body, and weapons that can be equipped to the sword. You can combine them. 1.3. Item Sort and Categorization Most of the items that you use have classifications for the item. The classification is a taxonomy used to classify the items you use. The higher the taxonomy of an item, the higher the item's strength. The higher the strength of an item, the higher the chance of obtaining an item of the same strength. However, these items all belong to the same item category, and there are lots of items with the same name, but different classification. You can obtain different items depending on the strength of the items in the item category you are using. The highest classification is Master. When an item is classified as Master, it is the strongest of the item category. It's impossible to use every item in one game. 1.4. Building and Decorating You can build and decorate your house. When you're playing, you can see the status of your house such as the amount of damage to the house, the state of the items you own, the state of the items you equip, and whether you're in the workbench or building the house. You can also learn about the state of your house and your surrounding area.

What's new in Elden Ring:

We forgot some console message on why we decide to do archlinux on the emulator. For the xbox port, the game is in late alpha stage (mastering is finished and tweaking is in process), and it's release isn't far. I don't know if it will be released on that console, but it seems it's a good idea to have an archlinux on the emulator to easily check with it. We can't ask on the official website but we did ask for the alpha configuration, and they gave a few answers related to their github/filepager but we didn't try that. Quote: In, to aid in testing, we will be moving forward on the Emulator to support an xbox console, a target distribution of Arch Linux, and the ability for keyboard and mouse to remain fully functional. We will be developing the necessary support framework for keyboard and mouse input, as well as aim for complete support for controllers by the time of the final release. xbox controller support will be done with the WineX (formerly included in Wine) xbox driver, with additional tweaking if required.Emulation Hardware: We are currently in the process of gathering information regarding Xbox Emulation specific hardware requirements. Quote: Distribution: The currently supported arch distribution will be Arch Linux, and we will be, at a later date, considering supporting distributions in other architectures.(FWIW, it is our plan to include support for the Raspberry Pi and Cuckoo Editions on the alpha currently available at github, but this is outside the scope of our current project.)If you have a distro that you feel might be of interest, we will be watching the arch-ent forums and social media for future options. We thank you for your support, and look forward to seeing your feedback! As you can see, we tried to keep a free spirit and not try to accomplish too much. :-) We're currently in the alpha, having everything we need, but we still have to consider the required keyboard/mouse support, as this is a constraint. For now, we use the Fira Sans font, I'll try to get more involved in this matter to evaluate some new ones compatible with UWP games. It'd be amazing to make this font using although the archlinux Xfce team already did it, so why try again? Maybe I'm wrong, but if you put this.
