after blowing its first-round series to the Clippers is because all of the good young teams in the league are just now making it to the postseason. Dragic's 26 points helped lead the Trail Blazers to a 126-111 victory against the Dubs on Sunday at Oracle Arena. The Blazers' Marcus Smart had 25 points, Rodney Hood added 18 points and nine assists, and Damian Lillard scored 13 of his 24 in the first half. That's why they're called first-rounders. "This is a good group of guys," Lillard said. "We're deep and we have a lot of good talent and I think we have the best team in the league now. I don't think anybody really knows that." The Jazz had won eight straight playoff games and needed to become the first 15-seed in NBA history to beat a No. 1-seeded team in the first round. Unfortunately for Utah, Utah is the No. 1-seeded team in the NBA.

And so, here we are. The Blazers went into Sunday's matchup looking to break a tie with the Warriors for the best firstround upset win in NBA history and to repeat the feat from a year ago, when they knocked off the top-seeded Oklahoma City Thunder. Tied with the Warriors at two wins apiece, the Dubs eliminated the Blazers in five games last season. Except for one thing. "You don't get too confident," Lillard said. "If you don't think it will happen again, you lose your confidence going into the game. You have to believe. You have to have a plan B." See, Dragic missed all of last season with a knee injury and will be facing a much different cast of characters in an intense series against the Clippers. c6a93da74d
